

Dr Paridhi Garg is a researcher, an educationist and an Endodontist.

She believes that, the only way medicine can progress is through evidence - based research. She has authored 16 publications in internationally indexed and acclaimed journals which have over 220 citations.

She is a NEET MDS mentor and has helped a lot of aspirants fulfill their dreams. She also counsels dental students for studying and work opportunities for countries like Australia/UK/Canada/Gulf. She has cleared exams for several countries herself, but chose to stay in India and guide students here as she realised that there is dearth of right guidance here.

She is currently working with 15 dental practices in Delhi NCR and also runs her own practice in Noida.
