

Poonam Patnaik did her Masters in English Literature and Linguistics and then later did her second Masters in Education to teach in International Schools. Having been a successful academic teacher for the past 27+ years, she feels that teaching is not only her metier and a profession to which she is well suited, but is an integral part of her identity. She has had the opportunity to travel and work in different parts of the world in the last twenty-seven years. Her multi-cultural background and wide international exposure helps her teach and develop appropriate curriculum in an international school where children come from different learning backgrounds. As an individual Poonam is enthusiastic, energetic and positive.
