

Dhara Sheth works as a representative of the Office of Equal Opportunities of Saarland University, Germany. In this role, she works for diversity, inclusion, and equality for the students and the employees of Saarland University. Previously, she has worked in Oregon (USA) as a school and mental health counsellor after completing her master's degree in Counselling Education (MS), with a specialization in School Counselling (K-12). She has another master's degree in Counselling Psychology (MA) from India and has also worked as an educator and a mentor for the school and college students.